

FAOPS2019 & ADInstruments Teaching Workshop

Satellite of
The 9th Federation of the Asian and Oceanian Physiological Societies Congress
(FAOPS2019)

Donation Request

2019-03-27(Wed)~28(Thr)
Kobe International Conference Center

Donation Request

FAOPS2019 & ADInstruments Teaching Workshop

President KOIBUCHI, Noriyuki
 Secretary General SHIBUYA, Masato
 Treasurer WATANABE, Makino

We have established the following Financial Policy for the FAOPS2019 & ADInstruments Teaching Workshop.

1. to acquire the funds necessary to achieve the main goal to become the forum to confront the latest in education research, know-how and materials, as well as a forum for exchange with physiology educators and education researchers. Thus, the main funding would come from registration fees, the Physiological Society of Japan, the Education Committee of the International Union of Physiological Sciences, and donations from those concerned.
2. to give an approximately 20% discount for the 'early bird' registration, to provide three different registration fees according to gross national product and the cheapest fee for undergraduate students in order to promote participation, particularly that of young physiologists from Asia and Oceania,

Projected Budget
Income		Expense
item	¥ Jpn Yen	item	¥ Jpn Yen
registration	900,000	Printing programs and posters	345,440
sponser	500,000	renting venue	329,400
donation, support	1,200,000	equipments	689,730
others (such as adds)	400,000	boards and poster panels	453,600
		dining	400,000
total	3,000,000	travel grant, invitations	600,000
		congress company fee	114,333
		reserve	67,497
		total	3,000,000

In order to pursue these policies and to heighten the accomplishment of this workshop so that it becomes a sound basis for further development of physiology education in Asia and Oceania, the kind support from members, friends and supporters of the Physiological Society of Japan and all who recognize the importance of physiology is essential. Here, your kind financial donation is cordially requested.

Two means of donation have been prepared.

(1) donation to Gunma Foundation for Medicine and Health Science, which is a public interest incorporated foundation

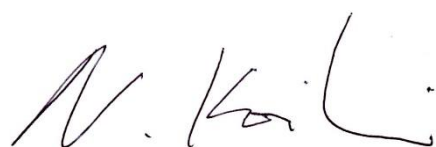

Gunma Foundation for Medicine and Health Science has the legal status of specific public interest corporation, which means that the donation to this foundation, may it come from an individual or a legal entity, will be entitled as a deduction for a favorable tax treatment. Your donation to the foundation, designated for the FAOPS2019 & ADInstruments Teaching Workshop, will fund the workshop. The following page provides a guide for donating to the Gunma Foundation. Any questions can be answered by the foundation office.

(2) direct transfer to the account of FAOPS2019 & ADInstruments Teaching Workshop

For those who do not need a deduction for favorable tax treatment, direct transfer to the bank account for FAOPS2019 & ADInstruments Teaching Workshop is also welcome. The guide is at the end of this booklet.

The names of those who have kindly donated will be recognized on the website of the workshop. If you wish to remain anonymous, please let us know.

Your kind understanding on our mission and generous donation is greatly appreciated.

A handwritten signature in black ink, appearing to read "N. K. L.", is located in the bottom right corner of the page.